

SCIENTISTS NEED MORE.

WHY?

Advanced skills course from scientists for scientists. Taking the next step in your career requires more than just technical knowledge. We offer a comprehensive course that is ideally suited to complement your research. Intended for PhD students at the beginning of their career, this course covers (almost) everything from group dynamics, communication and presentation skills, project and time management, feedback and collaboration.

WHO?

PhD students
(especially first-year PhD candidates)

WHEN?

Intensive 3 day course from May 5 – 8, 2014
(including evening sessions)

WHERE?

MPI for Biogeochemistry, Hans-Knöll-Str. 10, 07745 Jena

CONTACT: Steffi Rothhardt, IMPRS-gBGC

MORE INFORMATION:

www.schillermertens.de
hello@schillermertens.de

“Great course!” - “My objectives have been more than met!” – “I got useful advice and feedback concerning personal and academic questions.” – “It was perfect for the 1st year of PhD.” – “I learned a lot from my tutor. He liked to share his experiences as a scientist, which helped me a lot for my everyday life.”